Flere Lag Stevne

Velkommen til Stevne 2022!

Welcome to the first, of we hope many, Flere Lag Stevner. This is a union of Tre Lag Stevne and the Romerikslag and Solørlag joint stevne.

The Stevne Steering Committee has planned for you a great meeting with the theme: Friluftsliv or "Outdoor Life". This is maybe even more important to Norwegians than "koselig" in their everyday life. While living in Oslo my daughter attended Tomm Murstads Friluftsbarnehage at Frognersetteren. After entering the warming hut a child would be told by a "tante" to "Vær så snill å gå ut og steng døren." Outdoor life begins at birth in Norway.

At this Stevne we will learn much about the heritage we have of outdoor life. The tour will take us through much of Minnesota's Driftless Area to the first Norwegian settlement in Minnesota. We will learn about several of the outdoor activities that pervade Norwegian-American life. So "Vær så god".

Professor of Norwegian Language and Literature at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota Friluftsliv is really a simple concept: It describes the variety of social practices that take place in nature for the purpose of recreation. Yet in Norway this concept not only has its own special word, often translated as "Open Air Life," but it is also regarded by many as an essential part of Norwegian culture and identity. In short, it is typisk norsk [typically Norwegian]. Recently, global media outlets have taken an interest in the concept, pointing to Norway as an example of how to incorporate nature into your life to reduce stress and promote wellbeing. But how did friluftsliv come to hold such a central place in Norwegian identity? And is it really so unique to Norway?	Royale A

	Seminar A: Kubb … or is it Viking Chess? —Dee Dee and Jason Halvorson Kubb is a yard game. The word rhymes with 'tube'. Legend has it that it was created by the Vikings, but there is no written proof or photos. The concept is to toss wood batons (dowels) at wood kubbs (blocks). The team that clears the kubbs then knocks over the center King wins. No scoring. Teams can be one to six players. Big in the Midwest. Huge in Norway, Sweden, Germany. Some call it Viking Chess. I'll explain and demonstrate how to play and throw the baton. We will discuss some variations of backyard rules and US tournament rules. I'll also cover some of the strategy and what makes the game so fun for all ages and skill levels.	Royale A
	Seminar B: The Birkebeiner—North America's Biggest XC Race! —Barry Knapp & Darald Bothun, Coaches for the Rochester Nordic Ski Team Baby Prince Haakon's rescue in 1206 by warriors on skis and wearing birch leggings ("birkebeiner") created the legend behind the American Birkebeiner cross country ski race held annually in Northern Wisconsin. Barry Knapp and Darald Bothun, active ski coaches and multi-year "Birkie" racers, will tell you the story of Prince Haakon then take you to cross country skiing today and the 50km American Birkebeiner. The talk will also include a brief description of the various types of xc skiing, the many different events held during Birkie week, and the story of Per Ostigaard, from Hoffman, MN, who skied over 30 Birkies and 10 Korties until age 91! When he and his wife Anne Vasket immigrated to America in 1891, they found a home and the creamery where he could apply his art at the country crossroads community of New Sweden, Nicollet County, Minnesota. The cream provided by immigrant farm families was of such quality, and Haugdahl so confident in his art and skill of making butter that he entered the product in the 1900 World's Fair in Paris. This story explores the agricultural contributions of a Scandinavian immigrant community that help shape Minnesota's rich rural heritage.	Royale A
