

TRE LAG STEVNE

AN ANNUAL GATHERING OF DESCENDANTS AND FRIENDS OF THE TRØNDELAG, GUDBRANDSDAL, AND NORTHERN HEDMARK REGIONS OF NORWAY

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE NORWEGIAN KIND

7–10 August 2019
Holiday Inn
Alexandria, MN

Velkommen til Stevne 2019!

Welcome to the 17th annual joint stevne of Gudbrandsdalslag, Nord Hedmark og Hedemarken Lag, and Trønderlag of America. Our theme, "Close Encounters of the Norwegian Kind" begins with the stories of Viking adventures and conquests and continues through the years of immigrant migrations. The Alexandria area offers an opportunity to explore our earliest Norwegian contacts. 'Strange' encounters will be explored at the Runestone Museum and Kensington Rune Stone Park. Other significant encounters with more recent Norwegians will be presented at the Douglas County Historical Society Museum.

Our three lags strive to continue the traditions of the original lags to provide a venue to keep in touch with our culture, renew friendships, and build connections. The talented, knowledgeable speakers we have lined up this year will entertain, enlighten, and ultimately contribute to our overall understanding of our shared heritage.

Please take full advantage of the genealogy lab, vendors, and hospitality room. Also, take the opportunity to say thank you to all of the volunteers who make this annual stevne happen. A lot of time and effort is donated to ensure we have a quality program and you have a wonderful stevne experience.

1:00 PM – 6:00 PM	Tour: Visit Runestone Museum, Douglas Co. Historical Society Museum, Photo stop at Big Ole statue, picnic at Kensington Rune Stone County Park. (includes bus, tour stops, and box meal). There are two main stops on our afternoon tour: One is at the Runestone Museum. The discovery of the Kensington Runestone on his farm changed the life of Olof Öhman and his descendants forever. For more than 100 years, scientists, geologists, and linguists have studied the stone in an effort to offer a conclusive answer to the question of the Runestone's authenticity. The other main stop is at the Douglas County Historical Society, housed in the historic home of Norwegian immigrants Knute and Nicolina Nelson. Nelson was elected to the Minnesota Legislature and served two terms before becoming the state's only foreign-born Governor. Following his service as Governor, Nelson held office as a U. S. Senator, with distinction, for 28 years. He championed such causes as conservation, a federal income tax and pure food and drug legislation. We also include a group photo at the 28-foot-tall Big Ole Viking statue, with a box meal at Rune Stone Park.	 Meet in Main Lobby

Another reason is to prepare your data for uploading to an online program.	 Courtyard Rm 2

My presentation will describe the history of Lindisfarne and the reasons for its importance, and discuss one theory as to why Lindisfarne was targeted. I will explain why some historians believe that the raid was planned intentionally to send a message to the Emperor Charlemagne of the Franks. I will give reasons in favor of and against this theory.	 Courtyard Rms 1 & 2

1:30 PM – 2:30 PM	Seminar: The Viking Legacy—Lars Walker In Viking Legacy (2018), a book I had the honor to translate, Prof. Torgrim Titlestad, formerly of the University of Stavanger, describes the Vikings’ contribution to ideas of democracy and personal freedom we cherish today. The book tells the story of Norway in the Viking Age. We will examine the conflict between native Norse conceptions of democratic government and continental ideas of absolute monarchy that were being introduced by a series of authoritarian kings. We will also explain Prof. Titlestad’s defense of the use of the Icelandic sagas as historical sources. 	Courtyard Rm 2
1:30 PM – 2:30 PM	Seminar: Strange Encounters of the King Harald Hardrada Kind —Lawrence Moe Harald Sigurdarson was born around 1015 CE in Ringerike. At the age of fifteen he was wounded at Stiklestad in Trøndelag, fighting alongside his half-brother Olaf, who died there and was later made Saint Olaf. But Harald escaped, recovered, and spent the next fifteen years as a Viking and mercenary across the Mediterranean, serving also in the bodyguard of the Byzantine Emperor. Thus Harald amassed a fortune, which in 1046 fueled his return to Norway and the crown. He became known as Harald Hardrada (Hard-Ruler). Harald died attempting to conquer England, becoming a major figure in the fateful events of 1066. With Harald, the Viking Age came to its close. Dr. Moe draws on medieval sagas to tell the amazing story of King Harald’s far-flung, colorful, and audacious career—rife with strange encounters! 	Courtyard Rm 1

3:00 PM – 4:00 PM	Seminar: Vintage Underwear—Ann Skoglund, Douglas County Historical Society (DCHS) Undergarments are a necessary part of one’s wardrobe, and have been for centuries. Protecting the outer garments from wear, and more easily washable, they often attempted to shape the body according to the fashions of the day. Although men wore underdrawers and stockings, women’s underclothing was more complex. In the late 19th and early 20th centuries, depending on the decade and the formality, most women wore a chemise or camisole with a stiff corset, stockings, one or more petticoats, and a hoop or bustle to shape the skirt. Fabrics commonly included cotton and wool, sometimes linen, and if affordable, silk. Ms. Skoglund will show us examples of these garments in the DCHS collection. 	Courtyard Rm 2

9:15 AM – 10:15 AM	Seminar A: Race to Conquer England—1066 and All That—Marguerite Ragnow In 1066 CE, there were four claimants to the throne of England: Harald Hardrada of Norway; Harold Godwinson, Earl of Wessex; Harold's brother Tostig, the deposed Earl of Northumbria, both descendants of Harald Bluetooth, King of Denmark (c. 958-986) and Norway (c. 970-986); and William, Duke of Normandy, descendent of Rollo, the 10th-century Viking who established the Norse settlement that became the duchy of Normandy in France. This presentation will examine the relationships of these men, their claims to the throne, and how the actions of each of the others led to William's success, placing yet another Norse king on the English throne.		Courtyard Rm 1
	Seminar B: The Hauge Movement—Tim Peterson On April 5, 1796, a young farmer named Hans Nielsen Hauge was working in his field outside of Fredrikstad, singing one of his favorite hymns, when he had an overwhelming experience of God's Presence, God's Grace, and God's Calling. Hauge began to preach. He wrote books. He traveled all over Norway sharing the message he had received. Many people responded to his preaching and writing. His followers were called Haugeans. These people had a focus on Jesus and the Bible, on moral living, and on being entrepreneurial in business ventures. Hauge and his followers started factories all over Norway. Many of Hauge's followers came to the United States. Today there is a renewed interest in Hauge and the Haugean Revival in both Norway and the United States. This seminar outlines the history of the Haugeans—a history that is continuing on into the future.

These family memories create meaning that goes beyond the individual to provide a sense of self through time and in relation to family.		Courtyard Rm 1
	Seminar B: Nordic Hymnody—Tim Peterson Children of the Heavenly Father—Day by Day—Built on a Rock the Church Shall Stand!—Behold the Host Arrayed in White!—Jeg er så glad!—Our Nordic ancestors brought much of their church music with them when they came to America. This seminar will look at the history of some of the most popular Nordic hymns. We will sing the hymns—primarily in English translations, but also singing a little in Norwegian. You will learn a little about the hymn writers. And we will sing some of the beautiful contemporary Scandinavian hymns that are available in English translations in Mindekirken's hymnal Hymns and Spiritual Songs from the North.

Friday PM, 9 August

Time	Event	Location
1:15 PM – 2:15 PM	Seminar A: Ripe for the Harvest: Family Information in Norwegian Bygdebøker—Mike Swanson Bygdebøker are local history publications mainly for rural Norway. Although the format and content of these books vary, many provide details about families in a particular locality. It is easier to “harvest” this genealogical information from bygdebøker, where key details are presented in typewritten form, rather than trying to read the original, handwritten records. You’ll see examples of various types of bygdebøker with an emphasis on the genealogical information typically found. Advantages and disadvantages to using bygdebøker will be discussed as will tips for using the books more effectively. Strategies to identify the appropriate bygdebøk for research use will also be shown. 	Courtyard Rm 1
	Seminar B: Alexandria Early History —Rick Rosenfield, DCHS Alexandria got its start in 1858 – the same year Minnesota became a state. It was named for Alexander Kinkead, who arrived with his brother William from Delaware, stopping to establish a settlement on the shores of Lake Agnes. The following year a state road was cut through the area, encouraging future settlement. The Homestead Act of 1962 brought many immigrants and settlers, and also Civil War veterans. This presentation traces the early history of Alexandria, and the influences that can still be seen and felt today. 	Courtyard Rm 2
2:15 PM – 2:45 PM	Coffee and Refreshment Break, Visit Vendors	Isabelle’s
2:45 PM – 3:45 PM	Seminar A: Mystery Behind the Vanishing Headstones—An Update—Nancy Pickering The topic begins by exploring the significance of a set of ancient headstones in a London churchyard—which are stacked against and encircling an old ash tree, entangled in its roots. A photograph of the tree and its headstones turned up in an internet search, and curiosity led to more research, which led down several paths before coming together for a fascinating story. A repeat of a presentation three years ago, there’s now a surprising new ending! 	Courtyard Rm 1
	Seminar B: Where Do I Begin? Telling Family Stories —Joy Shong Family stories are a good way to gain the interest of younger people, but it can feel overwhelming to begin telling your family’s story. Joy will offer tips for “who, what, where, why, when and how” to begin to tell the stories of the people, places, things and events of you and your ancestors, and why it is important to share those stories. 	Courtyard Rm 2

This presentation will provide an overview of the thousands of runestones existing today, primarily in Sweden, Norway and Denmark, but some in North America. There will be a special emphasis on the runestones in Norway, and, most up-to-date translation of the Kensington runestone will be shared.	 Courtyard Rm 1
